fact:sheet

The German Youth Hostel Association unites 14 federal associations and 318 local and district unions with more than 2 million members. 554 youth hostels with different profiles can be found under its roof.

This diversity is reflected within structure of data: 25.000 documents, often polyglot, distributed on several webpages and databases contain an enormous amount of information for potential guests and employees.

Mirko Kaffka, project leader interface:projects explains, "One of the central aspects of the decision of DJH for inter:gator Enterprise Search was to make these widely spread information available to all internet-users in a comfortable and efficient way."

This usability is reached by a combination of techniques, f. e. a search request that accepts different writings, joined with a thesaurus in background, which can be enlarged by DJH.

Search results can be organized efficiently by several filters.

Looking for "Dresden", for example, you will be shown local youth hostels as well as results from other categories like offers for school trips or youth exchange programs.

The results are shown in groups and can be filtered by appropriate links.

Employees of the DJH are informed about researches of visitors on the webpage by automatically generated reports, which enable early recognition of developments and customers' desires.
